

THE 4.30 ZONE – WELLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL vs TITANIUM

VS

Lucy Edwards, Jack Comer-Hudson, Eddyn Perkins-Treacher

Matt (from The Edge), Andrew and TK.

Monday 15th September

Three games are played today...

'Best Kept Secret' where the teams are given a secret about a member of the opposing team and they have to guess whose secret it is.

'Kiwiana Quickfire' a New Zealand general knowledge round.

'Who Am I' where five clues are given about a famous New Zealander and the quicker a team correctly identifies who is being described, the more points they get.

Tuesday 16th September

'My Jam' teams are played five second snippets of songs and music videos with distorted picture and audio, and they have to be the first to guess the artist who is singing – bonus points are awarded for also correctly identifying the name of the song played.

Wednesday 17th September

'Code Cracker' In this high-pressure maths game one team member is given a three-digit code, and they have to create as many news codes as they can in 40 seconds by moving digits up or down based on instructions from Michael.

Thursday 18th September

'Memes, Vines, Grams and Tweets' This game tests our team's memory and perception, using meme pictures, Vine videos, Instagram snaps and celebrity Tweets, often with a New Zealand-connection.

Friday 19th September

Two games are played today, the first is 'Orders Up', where teams have to put six images in order from highest to lowest (eg – putting pictures of six All Blacks in order from the most to least number of test caps).

'Would You Rather' This is a test of how well teams know our audience. We posed a series of 'would you rather' questions to hundreds of our audience members, and teams have to guess which of the two options our audience would most rather do. Bonus points are awarded for also correctly guessing the percentage of those polled who selected the most popular option.
